ORIGINAL COMPLAINT

TO THE HONORABLE TONY DAVIS, UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY
JUDGE:

Plaintiffs, the Minns Firm Clients, named individually in Appendix A attached hereto, by and through their undersigned counsel, file this Original Complaint (this “Complaint”) against Defendants (collectively the “Knieps” and “Brand Builders” or “Defendants”) respectfully stating as follows:

I. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157(a) and 1334(b) and the standing Western District of Texas Order of Reference of Bankruptcy Cases and Proceedings.

2. This matter arises under the laws of the United States of America. This Adversary Proceeding constitutes a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(a) and (b) and a matter that arises exclusively under the provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, as to which the Court accordingly has power consistent with the United States Constitution to enter a final judgment.

3. Venue of this Adversary Proceeding in this District is proper under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

II. PARTIES

4. On November 23, 2022 (the “Petition Date”), the Debtor filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code, thereby initiating the Bankruptcy Case. The meeting of creditors was held under section 341 of the Bankruptcy Code and concluded on January 2, 2023.

5. The Rain Minns Law Firm represents sixty-eight (68) creditor parties in the Bankruptcy Case (the “Minns Firm Clients” or “Plaintiffs”). The Minns Firm Clients group is comprised of persons and entities who conducted business with Just One Dime Coaching (“JODC”) prior to the Petition Date. 7. Following the Petition Date, the Trustee appeared in the Minns Law Litigation, which cases have since been consensually stayed pursuant to Bankruptcy Code section 362 and successive consent orders entered by the District Court providing for same.

8. The Minns Firm Clients further assert that they (jointly and severally) entered/are entering into a Settlement Agreement with the Creditors' Trustee (as the Chapter 7 Trustee for Just One Dime Coaching, LLC), under which Plaintiffs are to pay certain consideration for the rights to pursue Causes of Action belonging to the Debtor.

III. ADDITIONAL FACTUAL BACKGROUND

29. Seth Kniep was the founder and leader of the now-defunct Just One Dime (“JOD”)/Done For You (“DFY”) program. The program purported to provide investors with “turnkey” service in building and running a store on the Amazon website. All work would be done by JOD. There were numerous entities under the JOD umbrella, including Just One Dime Coaching, (“JODC”).

30. The Done for You Program began in 2018.

31. JOD heavily recruited investors for the Done for You program, mostly through online advertising campaigns.

32. JOD pledged that it would launch only high-ticket products with strong margins.

33. In a cash flow example using a product that sold for $100, JOD asserted that $60 went to costs (including $15 to Just One Dime) and the remaining $40 went to the seller.

34. JOD promised that investors would eventually be able to resell their JOD businesses for at least 50 times their original investments.

35. What Plaintiffs learned after sinking thousands of dollars into the JOD program is that it did not, in fact, provide turnkey service, it did not provide high-ticket items, and it did not provide anything approaching a 40% cut to the seller.

36. Numerous JOD investors, including Plaintiffs, relied on JOD's promises to their detriment.

37. While Seth Kniep was the face of JOD, it was the JOD "Brand Builders" who were charged with the daily operation of the business and who had the most direct contact with investors, manufacturers, and shippers.

38. The Brand Builders were independent contractors of JOD. They were ostensibly responsible for researching and sourcing the investors' products, arranging for manufacturing and shipping, and setting up and monitoring the investors' Amazon stores.

39. For varying lengths of time over the life of the Done For You program, defendants Danilo Varriale, Brett George, David Lopez, and Patrick Cupillari (and certain of their companies) were JOD Brand Builders. The Kniep Defendants were also heavily involved.

40. On information and belief, Defendant Danilo Varriale trained one or all of the other brand builders.

41. A majority of the Services Agreements into which JOD investors entered required investors to pay an initial fee of $10,000 per product, with a minimum of three products. This was typically considered a “development fee” that went entirely to “overhead” costs. The Brand Builders were paid 67% of the investors’ development fees off the top. Additional costs for the investors included purchasing the inventory they were to sell, shipping costs for those products, and advertising on Amazon. These extra costs were considerable, and many of the investors never received the products for which they had paid.

42. JOD claimed it was highly selective in choosing its investors, would have a limited number of investors, and went through the motions of screening prospective investors. In truth, JOD accepted anyone and everyone who was willing to pay its initiation fees. This resulted in many of its investors competing against each other for sales of essentially the same products. It also meant the Brand Builders were stretched thin. But they were paid well regardless of whether they successfully performed their duties.

43. On October 14, 2022, Defendant Travis Kniep sent a form e-mail to JOD investors stating that the Done For You program would be ending on October

28, 2022. Defendant Travis Kniep reiterated that there will be no refunds for Done For You investors, but that investors were welcome to participate in JOD's Online Arbitrage program, which required payment of an additional $20,000 to fund products.¹

44. On November 23, 2022, Just One Dime Coaching, LLC filed for Chapter 7 bankruptcy.

45. A number of the Plaintiffs in this Complaint filed suit against a number of the Defendants in the Western District of Texas (see Schedule 2, Minns Law Litigation).

46. From about 2018 through October 14, 2022, the Brand Builders and their personally owned companies devised and implemented a scheme to defraud JOD investors by false and fraudulent pretenses, representations, and promises.

IV. CAUSES OF ACTION

COUNT 1 - Breach of Contract

47. Plaintiffs incorporate the preceding paragraphs as if repeated fully here.

48. Plaintiffs contend they are third party beneficiaries to the contracts titled Amazon Store Builders Independent Partner Agreement² which Just One Dime Coaching (the “Company”) and the Brand Builders and their individually owned companies (designated “the Partner”) entered into.

49. Exhibit A to the Amazon Store Builders Independent Partner Agreement stated that the Brand Builders would provide the following services for JOD investors:

- Open a new Amazon store for Client and give Company full admin access to the account.
- Research the market for high potential products.
- Find suppliers, build out a differentiation plan and manage the sourcing of the products.
- Manage the design process for retail packaging and company branding.
- Manage all logistics and shipping for the products from the supplier to Amazon’s fulfillment centers.
- Create high-conversion listing and oversee photo and video creation for the listings.
- Outline a plan to launch the products on Amazon and scale them as rapidly as possible to high ranking and conversion.
- Create a holistic brand-building strategy for the products on Amazon.

² See Exhibit 2, Amazon Store Builders Independent Partner Agreement.

- Split test the Amazon listings for conversion and optimize them for sales.
- Create a follow up sequence for Amazon customers so we can collect their contact info and drive them to a landing page, social media page, or other platform.
- Apply for brand-protection programs on Amazon so that no one can piggy-back the listing.
- Build, test, and optimize Amazon PPC ads on the listings to increase ranking and conversion.
- Strategize new product launches by using PPC reports to find product variations shoppers are searching that no one is selling.
- Build and implement Amazon promotion launches, create Amazon-compliant motivation for organic 5-star reviews, and improve the listing's conversion based on PPC keyword reports.
- Identify and leverage trends for new products we can launch as complements to the main product.
- Differentiate the Amazon listing and products from competition Amazon.
- Ensure we are Amazon compliant and brand proof so the Amazon account remains healthy.
- Test various product lines on Amazon for real time customer feedback and proof of concept to determine the most profitable products to launch first.
- Identify and address hijackers, copycats, and copyright-infringing competitors.
- Respond to critical reviews and negative seller feedback.

50. On information and belief, the Brand Builders divided their duties among themselves, so that Defendant Varriale was the product researcher, Brett

George was the product purchaser, and Patrick Cupillari was the account manager. However, due to excessive workloads, the Defendant Brand Builders were likely servicing the accounts of JOD investors beyond those specifically assigned to them.

51. A third-party beneficiary may enforce a contract to which it is not a party if the parties to the contract intended to secure a benefit to that third party and entered into the contract directly for the third party's benefit. See MCI Telecomms. Corp. v. Tex. Utils. Elec. Co., 995 S.W.2d 647, 651 (Tex. 1999). By including Exhibit A in their contract, the parties to the contract (JOD and the Brand Builders) indicated their intent to secure a benefit to third-party investors such as Plaintiffs.

52. The Brand Builders were contractually bound to locate products that were marketable and competitive and were likely to garner five-star reviews on Amazon. The Brand Builders failed in their contractual duties, as many of the Plaintiffs found the products the Brand Builders assigned them to be subpar and/or defective, with high return rates.

53. The Brand Builders were also contractually responsible for managing the shipment of products. The Brand Builders failed in those contractual duties in that shipments of the products assigned to many of the Plaintiffs were delayed, and some products never reached Plaintiffs.

54. Plaintiffs suffered damages as a proximate cause of Defendants' breach of contract.

COUNT 2 - Conspiracy to Commit Fraud

55. Plaintiffs incorporate the preceding paragraphs as if repeated fully here.

56. First, all of the Brand Builders and Kniep were members of a combination of two or more persons.

57. Second, the object of the combination was to accomplish (1) an unlawful purpose, or (2) a lawful purpose by unlawful means, the other claims in this Complaint.

58. Third, the members of the said group had a meeting of the minds on the object or course of action. On information and belief, the Brand Builders met in person once a month at the JOD headquarters in Austin.

59. Fourth, one or more of the members committed an unlawful, overt act to further the object or course of the action; to wit: Defendants obtained shipping discounts on bulk shipments of their investors' products from China, but Defendants did not pass those discounts on to the investors. Instead, they kept the discounts for themselves. This was a system worked out by the Brand Builders and Kniep.

60. The Brand Builders controlled the prices investors' products were listed for on Amazon. On information and belief, Defendants colluded to fix product prices to their advantage, since the Brand Builders were selling some of the same products as the investors.

61. Unbeknownst to JOD investors, Brand Builders with privately owned shipping services used those services to ship investors' products, thereby comingling funds and profiting from the practice. Kniep's contracts with the Brand Builders showed their shared interest to keep this and other details of their relationship hidden from the Plaintiff investors.

62. Plaintiffs suffered damages as a proximate cause of Defendants' improper actions.

COUNT 3 - Unjust Enrichment

63. Plaintiffs incorporate the preceding paragraphs as if repeated fully here.

64. Under Texas law, an unjust enrichment claim requires showing that one party "has obtained a benefit from another by fraud, duress, or the taking of an undue advantage.” Dig. Drilling Data Sys., L.L.C. v. Petrolink Servs., 965 F.3d 365, 379-380 (5th Cir. 2020), quoting Heldenfels Bros., Inc. v. Corpus Christi, 832 S.W.2d 39, 41 (Tex. 1992). Unjust enrichment is not a distinct independent cause of action, but rather a theory of recovery. Mowbray v. Avery, 76 S.W.3d 663, 679 (Tex. App.—Corpus Christi 2002, pet. denied). Nonetheless, Texas courts do not foreclose the possibility that a litigant may show the taking of an undue advantage without showing the violation of a law or legal duty. See Dig. Drilling Data Sys., 965 F.3d at 382.

65. Defendants’ conduct in accepting Plaintiffs’ investment without carrying out their duties as independent contractors and improperly using these funds for themselves constitutes more than unfair conduct; Defendants profited from their own fraudulent behavior and took undue advantage of Plaintiffs. Thus, Plaintiffs seek damages in unjust enrichment as an alternative remedy.

V. PRAYER

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Plaintiffs, the Minns Firm Clients, respectfully request the Court to enter judgment against the Defendants on account of each of the claims and causes asserted by Plaintiffs herein, and specifically and expressly grant them the following relief:

- a. Actual and economic damages including liquidated and unliquidated damages;
- b. Punitive damages, where appropriate;
- c. Pre-judgment and post-judgment interest at the maximum rate allowed by applicable law;
- d. Pre-judgment and post-judgment interest at the maximum rate allowed by applicable law from the date of judgment until paid in full;
- e. Court costs;
- f. Attorney fees; and
- g. All other relief, special or general, legal or equitable, as Plaintiffs may be shown to be justly entitled to receive.

ATTORNEY IN CHARGE FOR PLAINTIFFS
MINNS LAW FIRM CLIENTS GROUP

This is not a fun email to write. Yesterday in our DFY Private Label Client Meetup, we shared some really difficult news.

This is the hardest decision Just One Dime has ever had to make.

To be frank, when we started DFY, we expected to be profitable on your PL store much sooner than now. At this rate, we cannot continue to operate as a company if we continue as we are.

So we have to shut down the DFY private label program completely.

We know this is heart-breaking news. We know this may cause feelings of anger, resentment, discouragement and more.

These last few months have been extremely hard for us. We had to let go of our entire content and marketing staff in order to cut our expenses down just to keep operating.

But even with this reduction in costs, the staff and time and funds it takes to scale your private label store is far too great for us to maintain and if we continue as we are, JOD will go out of business in a very short time.

We know you trusted us with your funds and expected us to turn a strong ROI on that. We wanted this more than anything. And I feel sick, embarrassed, and deeply disappointed that we have come to this.

Please note that for anyone who we are building both OA and PL stores for, we will continue your OA store as normal and nothing changes in that regard.

If you were unable to attend the Client DFY Private Label meetup, please watch the DFY PL Client Meetup. This will really help you understand what led to this decision.

Moving forward, here is what we will be doing from now until the end of Friday, October 28, 2022 for your private label store:

- Provide you with all the data on your Amazon store up to this point.

- Show you how to pull a PPC report (if you are interested in managing the store yourself).

- Provide you with instructions on how to leverage Amazon's liquidation program (if you want to sell off your inventory).

- Provide you with the contact information of the 3PL (third party logistics company). holding your products (so you can contact them directly about what you want to do).

- Give you the contact information of your supplier(s) if you have products in production or want to do a restock order

- Give you the contact information of the shipper (if you have products on the boat)

Give you instructions on how to do a removal order if you have products at Amazon's fulfillment centers and want to have these removed and shipped somewhere else.

Any other data uniquely relevant to your store.

Some of you shared that you would like to manage the private label store yourself and asked for access to FBA Mastery courses. After signing a termination agreement we are willing to give you free and unending access to FBA Mastery, our five courses, at no cost. This is a step-by-step training program on everything FBA. It is this program that has helped many of our students to become millionaires, selling on Amazon.

The products you have invested in while in the DFY PL program are yours as a business owner, and we will provide more details of all information for you depending on the stage you were in in the journey with us within the next two weeks.

There are no refund options, as we simply don't have the money for refunds. However, if we can still double your dime and at the least, make you your money back, we would love the opportunity to do that.

So this is also an invite for us to build an online arbitrage store for you instead. We cannot give a date on when we would start, but at the least we would sign a contract agreeing to do this.

However, we need you to decide by October 28, so we can prepare properly in advance, so that once we do start, we have the systems in place to build your store well.

Do note that online arbitrage requires 20K in funding products but there would be no development fees. We would agree to let the development fees you paid for private label apply to us building you an online arbitrage store instead.

You might be wondering, "Why are you choosing to do online arbitrage stores instead of private label stores?" This is a good question, especially because building an online arbitrage store is more labor intensive than building a private label store.

However, online arbitrage is more scalable, because instead of each store being a unique brand that must be treated as its own individual business, each store is reselling branded products. The focus of a private label store is the brand and as a result, cash flow. The focus of an online arbitrage store is cashflow, but still can be sold for a high price if the buyer receives the standard operating procedures for how to build it.

Because of this massive transition we are going through and the number of emails we are receiving, we cannot email you back as quickly as we would like. We will get back to you by October 28, so please give us time as we work on this transition.

Knep'n it real,

Seth
